COLOR AROUND THE WORLD

You know how it is: You're traveling, and you happen upon a color that captivates you. It could be the perfect souvenir.

"I was exploring one of the old neighborhoods of Beijing when I came across a high wooden fence. Peering through the gate, I got a glimpse of a house with a pair of doors in the center, painted a beautifully aged red. The Chinese consider red to be a lucky color and associate it with prosperity and health. For me, it's about passion. I painted a headboard red for a client and he loved it."
